

Our British Values Charter

In 2014, The Department for Education published guidance on promoting British values in schools to ensure young people leave school prepared for life in modern Britain.

At Curridge Primary School, we want to ensure that children become valuable and fully rounded members of society who treat others with respect, regardless of background or belief.

We actively promote the following key British values:

- The Rule of Law
- Democracy
- Individual Liberty
- Mutual Respect
- Tolerance for those of different faiths and beliefs

Our own school values and these British values underpin daily life in our school. Frequent opportunities are given to children to help them apply these values and to practise the key learning behaviours that support them.

The Headteacher (Jackie Livermore) will:

- Ensure there is a clear strategy for embedding fundamental British values
- Promote the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of children at the school
- Prepare children at the school for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of later life

Staff in School will:

- Ensure that all children in school have a voice that is listened to
- Model a high level of respect towards everyone
- Teach a curriculum that is underpinned by the fundamental British values
- Give children opportunities to apply and practise fundamental British values

Our Governing Board will:

- Ensure fundamental British values are reflected in the school ethos
- Ensure that fundamental British values are implemented effectively in school policy and practice
- Challenge opinions and behaviours in school that would be contrary to fundamental British values
- Hold leaders in school accountable for delivering a broad and balanced curriculum

Parents and Carers will:

- Encourage and model respect for other people
- Teach and encourage children to accept responsibility for their behaviour
- Give their children opportunities to develop their self-esteem, self-confidence and self-knowledge
